The First True Red, White & Blue Garden

Celebrating America's 250 years with Art

WILMINGTON, North Carolina — Saturday, September 5th 2026 Lawrence Leaf is a well-known Garden Artist and public figure with a passionate community of 18.5K garden enthusiasts. Lawrence is excited to unveil the first-ever true red, white, and blue garden. Featuring plants and stones that will be red, white, or blue year-round. Lawrence is hosting an event to unveil the garden and celebrate America's 250 years. The garden, currently in progress, is showcased in front of theArtWorks™ of Wilmington.

On Saturday, September 5th Lawrence will unveil the completed True Red, White & Blue Garden at 10AM. Following the unveiling guests can speak to Lawrence for garden advice and project inquiries or browse theArtWorks™ studios and gallery. The event is free to attend. Learn more and RSVP to the event at www.ambassadortospring.com

About Lawrence Leaf

Lawrence Leaf grew up surrounded by plants; his father, Lawrence Leaf Sr, and his two uncles began a Nursery on Branch Ave, Hamilton, MD in 1951. Selling cultivated azaleas and boxwoods. Lawrence Leaf Jr took over the business when his father fell ill in 1984. Lawrence has continued his passion in horticulture, working with high status clients such as Norte Dame & Union Memorial Hospital as the Ground Supervisor, fagers island, and many residential clients for both indoor and outdoor designs and maintenance.

About theArtWorks™

theArtWorks™ is a cultural art complex providing art studios, gallery space, and an event venue; fostering a creative environment for artists, educational opportunities, and enhancement of the Wilmington community, through art.
